8.10 Cushing's Syndrome

Assessment	Nursing Diagnosis	Plan / Expected Outcome	Nursing Interventions	Evaluation
Subjective • "My face is round and I bruise easily." Objective • Round • "moon" face • Fat around the trunk • Skin thin • Glucose up	ACTUAL Disturbed body image related to changes in appearance as evidenced by distress about face and body.	Talks about her feelings and understands the changes can be treated.	• Encourage her to talk. • Explain how the changes should improve with treatment.	Shows acceptance: goal met.
Subjective • "My ankles are swollen." Objective • Edema • Potassium low	ACTUAL Excess fluid volume related to sodium retention as evidenced by edema.	Within 1 week, less edema.	• Weigh every day. • Encourage a low-sodium diet. • Follow potassium.	Less edema: goal met.
Subjective • No specific complaint Objective • Cortisol high • Skin thin, slow to heal	RISK Risk for infection as evidenced by risk factors: immunosuppression from excess cortisol.	No infection.	• Teach hand hygiene. • Look for subtle signs of infection (there may be no fever). • Protect her skin from injury.	No infection: goal met.