18.3 Obsessive-Compulsive Disorder*

Assessment	Nursing Diagnosis	Plan / Expected Outcome	Nursing Interventions	Evaluation
Subjective • "I must wash my hands 50 times or something bad will happen." Objective • Red, cracked hands • Spends hours washing each day	ACTUAL Maladaptive coping related to obsessive thoughts as evidenced by repetitive handwashing that interferes with daily life.	• Spends less time on rituals, step by step.	• Do not forbid the rituals outright; agree limits that shrink gradually. • Support exposure and response prevention therapy. • Give medication as prescribed. • Recognize progress.	• Goal reached as rituals decrease.
Subjective • "My hands burn." Objective • Cracked skin on the hands • Redness	ACTUAL Impaired skin integrity related to repeated washing as evidenced by cracked, erythematous skin.	• Skin on the hands heals within 2 weeks.	• Apply emollient after every wash. • Suggest mild soap and gentle drying. • Inspect the skin daily.	• Met as the skin heals.
Subjective No specific complaint Objective • Rituals take up much of the day • Late for appointments	RISK Risk for situational inadequate self-esteem as evidenced by risk factors: functional impairment from rituals interfering with daily tasks.	• Completes daily tasks.	• Give the day a structure with set times. • Support work or study goals.	• Achieved when tasks are completed.
